Violent Actions of a Negro Who Went
Insane—A Landman of Conway,
N. C., Missing—His Bank Book
Found on River Bank.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., September 7.—With appropriate ceremony the public schools of Portsmouth were presented with American flags and with Bibles by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. The event was under the auspices of Mason Council, No. 133, of Portsmouth. A programme, consisting of patriotic songs, an address by the Rev. L. H. Guyer, and other exercises had been prepared, and the programme was carried out at the Second District School.

Prior to the exercises there was a parade of the principal streets, a brass band heading the procession.

AN INSANE FIEND.
Arthur Jones, colored, of Hodges' Ferry, Norfolk county, became violently deranged yesterday and attempted to kill his wife. He attacked her with a keen bladed axe. He came upon her suddenly with the weapon in his hands and struck at her viciously. She dodged the blow, and before it could be repeated, she had escaped and given the alarm. When help arrived Jones was seen with a rope tied to the limb of a tree and in the act of adjusting the noose around his neck. He was arrested with great difficulty and now awaits an inquiry into his mental condition.

LUMBERMAN MISSING.
J. S. Long, a prosperous lumberman, of Conway, N. C., is missing, and he was last seen here, where his bank book was found near the river on the Portsmouth side. His brother, A. L. Long, of Conway, is making a search for the man, who was last seen August 25th. Fool play is feared.

GIRLS ON THE SCHOONER.
Advice from New York state that the schooner Massachusetts, with the two Norfolk girls, whose fathers thought they had been abducted, has arrived there. Hoffman and Chas. Huggins, proprietors of the Union Social Club, raided the girls Saturday night, were fined $100 and costs each to-day.

DR. TAYLOR PRESIDENT.
Rev. J. J. Taylor, pastor of Freeman Street Baptist Church, this city, was notified to-day that he had been elected president of the Georgetown, Ky., College. Many letters urging him to accept the place were also received, but Dr. Taylor reserved his decision.

HENS ARE PROPERTY
LIKE CATTLE, ETC.

An Important Decision By Judge Ashton In King George.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
COMON, VA., Sept. 7.—George Smith, a thrifty and respectable colored man on this county, sat traps in his field some days ago and "caught in said traps" some (fowls, etc.) belonging to a colored neighbor named John Holmes, and said fowls having degenerated upon Smith's crops, Holmes brought a warrant against Smith for thus catching his poultry, and asked Judge C. H. Ashton to prosecute the offender. Judge Ashton delivered an interesting and exhaustive argument, and the preceding magistrate decided that fowls are property, just as cattle and horses are property, and fined Smith $5 and costs for catching Holmes' hens in traps, though the hens were found on Smith's crops when they stepped into the traps.

The decision is regarded as an important one, and will be followed by suits for damages committed by fowls.

It has hitherto been believed by the masters that fowls were not property because they are not taxed, and that, therefore there was no redress for damages done to crops by them.

Presiding Elder C. T. Whitley, of Richmond city, who held quarterly conference at Trinity Methodist Church, King George County, Saturday, and preached in that church Sunday morning and Sunday night, is assisting Rev. W. F. Davis in a revival meeting at Fletcher's Chapel in the upper end of the county.

BELL CHOSEN IN PULASKI

Geo. N. Conrad Receives a Large Majority of Delegates to Rockingham County Convention in His Favor as Commonwealth's Atty.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ONANCOCK, VA., September 7.—The Democratic primary of Saturday was the most animated and hotly contested held in the county in recent years. The main contest was for the membership of the House of Delegates from Accomac. There were two candidates, the present incumbent, S. Wilkins Matthews, and John R. Rew. Mr. Rew had canvassed the county, speaking in all the towns and villages, and by his eloquence and strong reasoning had stirred up a great following, which finally resulted in his election by 125 majority.

Mr. Rew is a prominent lawyer at the Accomac bar, and from his energy in the present campaign he is expected to be elected, as sure to make his mark in the body to which the people of Accomac have sent him.

The balance of the ticket elected was: S. James Turlington, for Commonwealth's Attorney, over G. Walter Mapp; J. H. Hopkins, for treasurer; Edwin T. Powell, deputy, no opposition; J. D. Grant, clerk of the court, no opposition; L. B. Kellam, for sheriff, over William H. Holland and Charles C. Dix; Thomas Keady, elected for commissioner of revenue, Accomac Parish, over J. T. After court the courthouse was turned over to the candidates for the House for speaking. Mr. R. S. Rives opened with about a thirty minutes' speech, in which he was candidly during which time he made several charges personal upon Mr. C. H. Harrison's record, and stated that he was under no obligations if elected to vote for any certain candidate for the United States Senate, and that he would not commit himself to any one.

Mr. C. H. Harrison replied in a very short speech to Mr. Rives' attack upon him, and the audience went over his answer and the greatest applause of the night was accorded to Mr. Harrison's speech.

Mr. Robinson, of Chesterfield, who is opposing Mr. Joseph P. Sadler for the Senate was not present, and on account of his absence Mr. Sadler did not speak, but he was actively at work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

DESTRUCTIVE STORM IN HALIFAX COUNTY

A New Club to Revive Horse Racing in Halifax—Large Grand Stand.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SOUTH BOSTON, VA., September 7.—Saturday evening there was a fearful wind, rain and hail storm in the central part of the State, extending from Woodville, near the Pittsylvania line, to North Carolina. Many crops of tobacco near Houston were almost totally destroyed. The wind did much more injury to the crops than the hail. It approximated very closely to a tornado. Many trees were uprooted in its path. Its width was about two miles.

The American Tobacco Company recently bought a lot of land near the Norfolk and Western depot, and to-day the company commenced erecting a large brick storage warehouse on the site. It will, when completed, be the most commodious house in town. The company already have a very large factory nearby.

Recently a club was organized to revive horse racing in Halifax. Mr. J. H. Gull is president; Theo. F. Collins, vice-president; J. W. Mosley, secretary and treasurer. Subscriptions were liberal and they now have a most excellent race track between Houston and South Boston.

Horse fanciers are at the track every day, having their horses trained for the great sport of the turf. The grand stand is equal to any in the State, capable of seating 2,000 people, with a substantial canopy. The races will be the event of the year in Halifax.

Not to be unlike many other cities and towns, South Boston will have the Jones Carnival Company from the 20th to the 25th, so the people are looking forward to one solid week of fun and frolic.

There was no observance of Labor Day except by the banks and postoffice officials.

CAPT. W. D. CARDWELL IS DECLARED THE NOMINEE

The Democratic County Committee for Hanover county met at the courthouse yesterday to arrange for a viva-voce primary to be held on September 30th for the nomination of county and district officers, who have opposition.

A resolution was adopted declaring the following persons the nominees for the offices to which they aspire, they having no opposition.

In House of Delegates, W. D. Cardwell, For County Clerk, J. A. Brown, For Over-Treasurer, William P. Shelton, For Sheriff of the Poor, P. M. Hance, For Treasurer, J. H. Taylor, Supervisor, J. H. Taylor, Commissioner of the Revenue, N. W. Wicker, Constable, P. H. Hughes, Overseer of the Poor, George C. Wright.

One of the hottest contests in the county is for the office of sheriff, the incumbent, Mr. O. O. Alexander, being opposed by Mr. H. Guy Vaughan.

Grosh—Helges.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SAXE, VA., September 7.—One of the hottest contests in the county was for the office of sheriff, the incumbent, Mr. O. O. Alexander, being opposed by Mr. H. Guy Vaughan.

Reverend Mr. Helges, of the Saxe, was the only one of the Saxe who was present at the meeting. The Saxe is a small town, and the meeting was held in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The parlors were beautifully decorated in blue and white.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., September 7.—The Virginia Passenger and Power Company have secured sufficient land for their purpose, and will begin at once the construction of their large dam. The bids of the contractors have been opened, but the contract has not yet been given out. It is very probable, however, that it will go to Lane Brothers, who now have the contract for widening the canal. The dam will be about fifty feet high instead of about seventy feet as at first contemplated, this change in the plans having become necessary by reason of the fact that the owners of land along the Appomattox River charged exorbitant prices for the land. Acres that are assessed for two or three dollars each for taxation suddenly become very valuable and were considered cheap at two hundred dollars. The Virginia Passenger and Power Company finds that a dam of about forty or fifty feet will be ample for their purposes, and will begin to build it at once.

APPEAL FOR DOC BACON.

The colored people in this city will hold a meeting within a few days to raise funds with which to defray the expenses of prosecuting an appeal for Doc Bacon. Mr. James T. Rahilly received a letter to-day from Commonwealth's Attorney Goode in reference to the case, but being a private letter Mr. Rahilly would not give out any of its contents for publication.

The case of Miller against the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company is probably one of the most interesting that is set for trial at this term of the Circuit Court. Miller is suing the railroad for damages of $2,000 because he was forced by the conductor to sit in the "Jim crow" car while in charge of a white patient on his way to the asylum. The company maintains that it had a right to put him there under the contract with the State.

Timothy Rives, of Prince George county, represents the plaintiff, and George H. Bernard, of Petersburg, and Judge W. H. Mann, of Petersburg, and Judge H. P. Northampton, of Petersburg, represent the defendant.

Professor Hugh Skipwith Northampton, of Alexandria, an M. A. of the University of Virginia, and formerly assistant professor of languages in Richmond College, has been elected to the chair of languages at the Southern States College in this city, to succeed Professor Lewis Chamberlayne, who goes to Pennsylvania to accept a similar position.

Considerable improvements are being made at the Swift Creek cotton mills. The stated clerk, and a number of Winchester Presbyterians will probably attend.

Their brick plant, with capacity of 700,000 bricks, will soon be completed.

The ladies of St. Joseph's Catholic Church will give a lawn party in the yard during the week for the benefit of the church.

NO CELEBRATION.

There was no celebration of Labor Day in Petersburg. The holiday being marked only by the closing of banks and Federal offices, and the closing of a few manufacturing plants.

Mrs. George Cameron, Mr. George Cameron, Jr., and his daughter, Helen, will sail this week for Europe.

Miss Mary Roper will leave Thursday for Pulaski to attend the house party given by Colonel McGill in honor of Miss Lucy Lee Hill.

Mrs. Charles Carter and her daughter, Miss Elida Carter, returned to Petersburg to-day after a stay of several weeks at Atlantic City.

The little son of Mr. B. C. Hatcher is quite sick at his father's home, on Liberty Street.

The Methodist Preachers' Association resumed their weekly meetings at the Y. M. C. A. this morning after the summer vacations.

The Sunday-school of Market Street Church will give a picnic at Bellwood, in Chesterfield county, to-morrow.
